

Hulin Health Gives Back to Local Teachers.

Local Teachers Given Supplies via the Adopt-a-Teacher Program.

Broussard, LA – August 2, 2018 – Hulin Health was pleased to participate in The Daily Advertiser’s Adopt-a-Teacher program. This program is designed to help local businesses and patrons assist in purchasing school supplies for their classrooms for the school year. Each supply list is created by the teacher and unique to their needs. This program not only helps with costs for the teachers but, also the students and their families.

Five teachers were adopted throughout the Acadiana area: Ambry Marceaux from Ridge Elementary in Lafayette, Kaitlyn Craven from New Iberia Senior High in New Iberia, Holly Lejeune from Sugarland Elementary in New Iberia, Matthew Boudreaux from J.H. Williams Middle in Abbeville, and Charmaine Griffin from Herod Elementary in Abbeville.

“This program is amazing, in that it gives supporters the exact list of things teachers need,” said Jessilyn David, Marketing Director for Hulin Health. “The mission of the Adopt-a-Teacher program is one of community and support by giving back to our teachers and children, which is something we are always eager to get in line for!”

Founded in 2011, Hulin Health is a leading provider of Urgent Care services in Louisiana and the broader Gulf Coast region. Known as one of the most dependable Urgent Care clinic networks around, Founder and CEO, Clayt Hulin, and his team at Hulin Health are changing the way healthcare is delivered.
