

Sherman Theater Presents Fine Arts Discovery Series

The Sherman Theater is excited to announce the reintroduction of the Fine Arts Discovery Series of cultural events. This new direction will involve a series of events focused on different segments of the community as well as providing opportunities for the community to experience more arts and culture in the Monroe County Region. "Bringing the arts to the forefront and to provide the opportunity for couples to enjoy a back to basics Dinner Theater is a bold and exciting adventure" said Dennis Jeter, who has been named the artistic director of the series along with a Community Action Board to include: Mr. Jeter, Robbie Romango, Lorna O'Farrell, Scott Judy, Gil Coronado, and Adam Niewood.

The confirmed events for this first phase of the series include a Doo-Wop, Latin Experience, American Song Book, Jazz and as a throwback to the origins of the Sherman theater a night of Vaudeville and Burlesque. This committee is committed to seeing new culture being offered here in Monroe County, as this will provide the Sherman Theater with a growing membership and presence necessary to sustain the Sherman Theater in the future. The Sherman has recently completed a major renovation and upgrade over the past year, to broaden the appeal to the community and performers.

"After 10 years of hard work in establishing the Sherman Theater as a world class venue, we have finally gotten the theater to the point of expanding the offerings, beyond popular rock shows, and allow Monroe County to compete for art and cultural offerings" says Rich Berkowitz, President and CEO

New Supper Club events starting with a Doo-Wop Experience 1/30/2015 and Latin Experience 1/31/2015 will set the pace for the future upcoming events in this series, (American Song Book, Ballads & Bouquets and bringing everyone back to the roots of the Sherman Theater, Vaudeville/Burlesque). The Doo-Wop Experience will feature Joey and the T-Birds and The Paramounts.

The "Latin Experience" Supper Club (1/31) will feature International Australian performer, Natalia Segura and Pennsylvania Band, Los Monstros, who will bring in a full 12 piece band and provide guests with Salsa, Merengue and Bachatta. DJ Ruby will keep the music flowing through out the evenings live performances.

VIP Guests will have a true dinner theater experience with dinner, dessert and coffee in addition to the 2 live acts in cabaret style seating. After dinner, a general admission will provide seats for those who just want to enjoy the show.

"We are excited to have the Latin-American Community come out and support the Sherman Theater, as it spreads its wings. The Latin presence is a vital one in our community, and we are excited to have an event that will appeal to them. A big plus is it will bring people who may not ever have stepped inside the Sherman Theater before and enjoy this wonderful event in a world class venue" says Community Action Board Member, Gil Coronado, of CILA llc Management.

The first two Fine Arts Discovery Series are: Doo-Wop Experience on Friday, January 30, 2015, 6:15 PM-10:30 PM, and Latin Experience Saturday, January 31, 2015, 6:15 PM-10:30 PM. Who: General Public and Press Admission. Cost: VIP Dinner Tickets $42.50 pp, General Admission, $22.50 pp. Tickets are available for purchase at www.shermantheater.com

"It is time to diversify and expand the types of shows we are doing, and for the community be involved in your community theater, the future of the Sherman Theater depends on it." Says Lorna O'Farrell, VP of Operations; Community Liaison & Corporate Sponsorships.

Catholic Social Services of Monroe County will hold its 13th Annual Valentine Celebration for Shepherd’s Maternity Home on Sunday, February 8, 2015, at Stroudsmoor Country Inn in Stroudsburg, PA. This annual event, entitled “A Celebration of Life,” raises awareness in the community of the ongoing dedication of Catholic Social Services to the Respect for Life.

Shepherd’s Maternity Home is a non-denominational facility that provides shelter and caring for homeless pregnant women and their babies. This year’s event will begin at 2 p.m. with a Social Hour, hors d’oeuvres, and a cash bar. Dinner, a silent auction, and dancing with music by DJ Joe Franzo will follow from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Honorees this year will be Senator and Mrs. Mario Scavello. For reservations or event information, call 570-822-7118, ext. 305. For further information on Shepherd’s Maternity Home and other programs of Catholic Social Services, call 570-476-6460.

Barrett Paradise Business Association will be holding a Business Card Exchange on Thursday, January 15, 2015 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at the Bloomin’ Onion Restaurant in Cresco, PA There will be a cash bar and appetizers will be served.

For more information or to RSVP email info@barrettparadise.com or call 570.630.0403.

Businesses wanted! How do young people with disabilities find employment? How have adults with disabilities successfully maintain jobs? What supports and incentives exist for businesses to hire them?

On April 21, 2015, the Carbon-Monroe-Pike Employment Coalition will host Roads to Employment at Shawnee Inn from 9am to noon. We are looking for local businesses to serve as vendors. We will have several informational booths to benefit job seekers and employers. We will also have workshops for people interested in learning about how successful we have been in promoting employment in Northeast Pennsylvania.

To sign up as a vendor or a participant, please contact James Furiosi at 570 420-1900 ext. 3434 or e-mail him at: jfuriosi@cmpmhd.org.

With winter at the doorstep, PPL Electric Utilities has several programs to help its income-eligible customers pay their bills, maintain uninterrupted service and stay warm this season.

Electric use tends to spike in winter, as it can in summer, and that means some of the utility's customers who are struggling financially also will struggle to pay their electric bill. Sometimes people on fixed or limited incomes are forced into choosing whether to pay their energy bill or buy sufficient food for their family.

According to PPL Electric Utilities, about 25 percent of its residential customers have household incomes at or below 150 percent of the federal poverty level, which is the eligibility cut-off point for many low-income assistance programs. And each year thousands of eligible customers don't take advantage of programs available to them.

Here's a look at the programs that can help. There's additional information at PPL Electric Utilities' website, www.pplelectric.com/billhelp.

OnTrack is a program for income-eligible customers that offers reduced monthly bill payments and a chance to erase any debt you owe. PPL Electric Utilities works with a network of local agencies to administer this program.

The Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) is funded by the federal government and administered by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare. It provides cash grants to help families with heating bills, and crisis grants to help families who are at-risk of losing their power or who are coping with heating emergencies.

Customers don't have to receive public assistance to qualify and don't need to have an unpaid heating bill. Both renters and homeowners are eligible.

Programs also are available to help customers save energy and money. PPL Electric Utilities' Winter Relief Assistance Program (WRAP) helps income-eligible customers by providing energy audits. The program also can include the free installation of energy-efficient appliances and home weatherization measures. Income guidelines are listed with WRAP program information at www.pplelectric.com/wrap.

To eliminate seasonal spikes in bills in high-demand seasons like winter and summer, budget billing is an option to spread out estimated annual electricity expenses over 12 months. In other words, customers in the program pay roughly the same amount each month and know what to expect ahead of time.

Lastly, there's Operation HELP, PPL Electric Utilities' hardship fund for customers having trouble paying their energy bills. The program has provided peace of mind to 86,000 families who have benefited from more than $24 million collected through Operation HELP over the past 30 years.

Customers can elect to contribute monthly as part of their bill or make a one-time contribution.

Donations come from people in the cities and towns served by PPL Electric Utilities, as well as its employees, retirees and the company itself. There's an Operation HELP insert included in PPL Electric Utilities' December bill, and information is also available at www.pplelectric.com/operationhelp.

Pocono Health Foundation and The Rotary Club of the Smithfields held their annual Holiday Tree Lighting Ceremony on December 3, 2014 to benefit children's programs in the community. The event held on the campus of Pocono Medical Center, awarded grants to six non-profit agency children's programs totaling $6,000. Those recipients are: Devereux Pocono Programs & Services, Melon's Gift, Inc., Pocono Area Transitional Housing (PATH), Pocono Services for Families and Children, Pregnancy Resource Center of the Poconos, Youth Infusion, Inc.

"We always look forward to the holiday season here at Pocono Medical Center as it gives us an opportunity to work alongside the Rotary Club of the Smithfields in giving back to our wonderful community for which I am so proud to serve," says Jeff Snyder, President & CEO of Pocono Health System/Pocono Medical Center.

The Pocono Health Foundation Grant Committee selected this year's recipients based on a competitive grant review process. The event also included musical entertainment from the JM Hill Elementary School Chorus, Stroudsburg Jr. High School Chorus, and the East Stroudsburg North High School Chorus. Santa arrived by the Borough of East Stroudsburg Fire Department and luminaries sold in memory or in honor of loved ones lined both sides of East Brown Street in the festive event.

The Pocono Health Foundation and Rotary Club of the Smithfields raises funds by the sale of red, green, and white holiday bulbs in memory or in honor of a special person. The bulbs can be purchased by calling the Pocono Health Foundation at (570) 476-3530. Individuals can learn more about the Pocono Health Foundation by visiting PoconoHealthFoundation.org.

The Pocono Arts Council and local partners have joined together to present The Earth Speaks, a juried exhibit arising from a deepening concern for the climate crisis currently affecting our planet. Art has always been a powerful vehicle for raising consciousness, and this exhibit hopes to bring to light our growing awareness of a crisis we can no longer ignore. The Earth Speaks is an open call for work that focuses the attention of the viewing public on the gravity of the issue. The show is open to all, with awards available in a variety of mediums including 2-D, 3D, Photography and Printmaking. Students are welcomed and encouraged to enter.

The juror for the exhibition is Patricia Watts who founded ecoartspace in 1997 after researching art and nature prac-tioners since 1994. In 1999 she partnered with Amy Lipton in New York City and together they have produced numerous exhibitions and programs on both the east and west coasts. Watts has participated as panelist at numerous conferences and has given lectures at art departments internationally on art and ecology. Exhibitions she has curated include Transmissions at the Marin Community Foundation (2013) in Novato, CA; Shifting Baselines at the Santa Fe Art Institute (2013); MAKE:CRAFT at Otis College of Art and Design (2010) in Los Angeles; and Ecoarchive at 5M in San Francisco (2010). She also curated Hybrid Fields at the Sonoma County Museum (2006) in Santa Rosa, and Bug-Eyed: Art, Culture, Insects for the Turtle Bay Exploration Park (2004-2005) in Redding, CA, and produced a site-specific temporary public art installation entitled Windsock Currents (2005) on Crissy Field in the Presidio (San Francisco) for UN World Environment Day. Most recently Watts has been writing a series of Action Guides including replicable social practice public art projects including Eve Mosher's HighWaterLine and Tattfoo Tan's S.O.S projects. ecoartspace has also been developing a video archive of interviews with pioneering eco-artists including Bonnie Sherk, Buster Simpson, Patricia Johanson, and Jackie Brookner, and many others to make available for exhibitions and research purposes.

Entry fees are $15 for first 2 entries & $10 for each additional entry for students and $20 for first 2 entries & $15 for each additional entry for adults. Awards include a $500 Juror's Choice Award; $100 Curator Award; $100 2-D Award; $100 3-D Award; $100 Photography Award; $100 Printmaking Award and $100 ARTSPACE Student Award:

The deadline for submission is January 15, 2015. A prospectus, including how to enter, is available on the PoconoArts Council website at www.poconoarts.org or at the PoconoArts Cultural Center. For further information, contact PoconoArts at 570-476-4460 or info@poconoarts.org.

PA CareerLink of Monroe County is presenting a free Unemployment Compensation seminar on "Relief from Charges".

The seminar will be held at PA CareerLink at 2937 Route 611 Merchants Plaza, Tannersville PA 18372., on Friday, February 6, 2015 from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. To register: email pamjoseph@pa.gov or call 570.620.2855 by February 2, 2015. Please contact the PA CareerLink of Monroe County at 570.620.2850 if you require a disability accommodation.

Employers are concerned about controlling their UC costs. One of the ways to control these costs is to file from relief from charges. This presentation will explain:

- ◆ What is relief from charges?
- ◆ Which employers are eligible to file?
- ◆ How employers are notified that their account may be charged?
- ◆ How to file for relief from charges
- ◆ How do separation issues affect the employers eligibility for relief and appeal rights?

An Unemployment compensation customer service professional will be available to answer your questions and help you better understand everything about the UC program.

For more information on all aspects of Unemployment Compensation, please visit www.uc.pa.gov and click on Employer Services.

Shawnee Inn & Golf Resort sponsored the Pocono Alliance Getting Ahead Christmas Dinner last week for 35 adults and 32 children. Shawnee provided a wonderful dinner and even flew Santa Claus in to visit with the children and pass out gifts. This is the 3rd year that Shawnee has provided this special dinner for the Getting Ahead families.

Dr. Brettney Ramsour

AlignLife Doctors nationwide offering education to their communities. Dr. Brettney Ramsour will be offering the workshop to our community.

Evidence suggests that many carry high levels of toxins, such as styrene, dioxin, xylene, and dichlorobenzene in their tissues. Not only is it proven that an overwhelming majority of people have stores of toxins in their bodies, but it has also been proven by clinic research that these toxins may cause cancer and many other life-threatening diseases.

AlignLife believes when it comes to health, awareness, education and prevention are the most powerful tools. Toxicity is not a matter to be taken lightly. Although it is largely ignored at this point in time by conventional medicine, the consequences for ignoring this health risk may ultimately lead down the path of struggling through life with the common symptoms of chronic fatigue, mood disorders and obesity or potentially life threatening diseases and premature death. Dr. Joseph Esposito, founder of AlignLife, states "It is no longer a question of IF you are toxic or not, it is HOW toxic are you?"

On January 12th at 6pm, AlignLife clinics nationwide will be hosting a community workshop on Toxicity. The doctors and staff at AlignLife are so passionate about equipping their communities with the proper resources for optimal health they are giving away a Caribbean Cruise for two. What's the catch? No catch, every single workshop attendee will be entered into the drawing. A woman in Waunakee, Wisconsin won the drawing last year.

At this workshop attendees will learn where the most common toxins are coming from, the harm they cause and how to avoid them. This workshop will go steps further and teach how to rid the body existing toxin build up and reverse effects they have caused.

Call 570-476-5577 to reserve your seat for January 12th at 6pm.

Pocono Medical Center (PMC) announced today that it is entering into a new agreement with Lehigh Valley Health Network (LVHN) to provide medical director and professional services for Radiation Oncology at the Dale and Frances Hughes Cancer Center. Patients will be cared for by the physicians who provide radiation oncology services at the LVHN cancer centers in Allentown and Bethlehem.

The new affiliation follows the decision by Michael Greenberg, MD, who has been medical director at the cancer center since 1988, to step down, effective Feb. 28.

LVHN's physicians are experienced in all aspects of radiation therapy, have a history of receiving strong patient satisfaction scores and quality outcomes. Their leadership has produced consistent quality and innovation at LVHN and will help Pocono Medical Center's radiation oncology program continue expanding its services.

Jeff Snyder, Pocono Medical Center president and CEO, said, "We are excited about this new affiliation with the highly-respected Lehigh Valley Health Network, which will continue to serve area residents with world-class cancer care."

Mr. Snyder added, "We are most grateful to Dr. Greenberg for his many contributions to our cancer center and our patients. We wish him much continued success."

Dr. Greenberg, said, "After 26 years of helping to build what has become a world-class cancer center, it is time to move on to a new challenge. We have accomplished much in these two-and-a-half decades, and I am proud of having played a part in developing this important service to the community."

LVHN will begin providing services on March 1, 2015 and will be working closely with Dr. Greenberg and the PMC oncology team to provide a seamless transition of care.

Alicia Simon

We are very pleased to announce Alicia Simon, a Certified Registered Nurse Practitioner, in Pocono Medical Center's Internal Medical Department within the Physician Practices, has been named the Dedicated Employee of the Month for January. Simon was nominated for her compassion and patience with a patient. Below is an excerpt of the nomination submitted by a patient on Alicia's behalf:

"I will start with compassion beyond anything I have ever seen in a human being. The kindness, the patience, the understanding of a patients' needs. This lady empowers women to realize their full capabilities within themselves. She motivates, encourages, she teaches you not to quit! Not to give in to despair. She understands when you have that feeling of who am I now, what will happen to me now. How did this happen? She does not allow you to dwell on the “what if” but encourages and pushes you forward to see the better day that is coming. She is my unspoken hero! She has a gift and found a way to allow people to see the good, in not only themselves, but in the illness that is controlling their lives. I just want to let people know that the greatest Christmas gift I could give her is to allow others to know there is an angel among us, who unconditionally has decided to help those with needs of not only illness but of mind and strength and body to heal, and be one with themselves again.”

When asked about a specific story, the nomination continues “I had surgery in (another) hospital that went terribly wrong. I was transferred to (another) hospital and there was intubated for about 4 days. I spent another 7 days in Intensive Care. When I was finally released, and was to report to Alicia to start my medicine, I could barely walk. I had a gaunt look and my eyes had lost the spark. I was frightened for I had endured so much and was scared of what was facing me. This beautiful, wonderful lady embraced me with such compassion and understanding, her patience, her ear to listen, her ability to guide me, her strength to encourage me to push me forward and not fear tomorrow. She guided me, she selflessly understood and went beyond the call of duty to make sure I understood. She assured me at all times, and there were times I almost relapsed and she was there helping me make the right decisions, inquiring the knowledge she needed to help me, by better understanding the treatments that I had already received.” “She showed me tomorrow when I felt there would be none. She had me live in today and not worry about tomorrow. She did whatever it took to get me to be me again.”

To Alicia “thank you for being with me at my darkest point. I came to you 2 weeks after almost dying and from the time I stepped in your office you and your staff empowered me to realize if I had made it this far, there was no reason I could not go all the way. Merry Christmas Alicia, and may God keep you around for many more New Years to come!”

Pocono Medical Center provided over $27 million in community support in fiscal year 2014 in the form of free, uncompensated care to patients who could not afford to pay; the provision of care and free transportation for the elderly and the poor not paid by Medicare or Medicaid; community health, education, and outreach programs; community partnerships and support; allied health; and medical educational programs. From fiscal year 2006 through fiscal year 2014, Pocono Medical Center has provided approximately $160 million in direct community benefit to the region.

“Patient care, education, and service to our community are part of our DNA here at Pocono Medical Center and we know that our benefit to the community is second to none,” said Jeff Snyder, President & CEO of Pocono Health System/Pocono Medical Center. “Our community benefit joins our annual economic impact of over $425 million which supports life-sustaining wages and benefits, positively impacts the economy of the region, and assists in the efforts to improve the quality of life for all.”

Pocono Medical Center employs over 1,900 people and serves as a major driver of the economy throughout the Pocono Mountain region. The Hospital and Healthsystem Association of Pennsylvania has recognized Pocono Medical Center for supporting nearly 2,775 jobs in the region as part of our economic impact.

"Our service to the community is reflected in the passion, talent, and hard work of our over 1,900 colleagues, said Jeff Snyder. "Their daily dedication to providing extraordinary care, close to home is unparalleled."
