Monroe County Bar Foundation grants area grads aid in offsetting college costs

STROUDSBURG, PA- Over the past six years, Monroe County Bar Foundation has given $25,500 in scholarships to students across Monroe County with this year's recipients joining an August 7 check presentation in the organization's Stroudsburg office before continuing onto to college.

Granting Pocono Mountain East High School graduate Savannah Stout, Pocono Mountain West's Camile Teajman, along with Stroudsburg's Samantha Imber and East Stroudsburg South's Nadia Hussein each $1,500 will ease book buying and other tuition tallies as they attend institutions that include Duquesne University, Elizabethtown College, along with Suffolk University and New York University Abu Dhabi in the fall. From Forensic Science and Psychology, to Economics and Political Science each agree studies share a common link to Law Degrees.

Marking the third $1,000 endowment honoring the late Judge Ronald E. Vican, Robert Fox Jr. joined the day's donations as this year's Ronald E. Vican Memorial Scholarship recipient. Exhibiting the same well-balanced combination of athletic and academic aptitude as Vican himself, Fox plans to pursue a degree in Sports Management locally at East Stroudsburg University.

With sights set on an Athletic Director career, the former Pocono Mountain East High School wrestler and football player admits determination derived from the donation stating, "Getting this scholarship motivates me even more to do my best."

Calling all awardee resumes, "Unbelievably impressive," Monroe County Bar Foundation Chairperson William Reaser joined Treasurer Diane Dagger delivering well wishes to the graduates and advice in all ways of pursuing life's ambitions.
